

MÁXIMA BUTTERFLY NEWSLETTER

BUILDING BRIDGES

Sept. 2024

COLLABORATIVE TRAINING SCHOOL

At the recent Autumn School, "European networks: Bridging the gap between academia & industry," the first-year Butterfly PhDs, crossed paths with final-year Vagabond students who are based in 11 different pediatric institutes across Europe. This unique occasion allowed the students to share experiences and discover not just their differences, but the common thread that binds them: a shared mission to revolutionize cancer treatments for young patients.

SECONDMENTS

The Butterfly students are spreading their wings! They're embarking on secondments, travelling to academic and non academic institutes and organizations across Europe and around the world. An opportunity for them to experience new techniques and methodologies and expand their professional networks. We're proud of their dedication and look forward to seeing the positive oim-

INDUSTRIAL MARKET FAIR SEPT 2024

The collaborative Autumn training school featured an industrial market fair. A valuable opportunity for the students to connect with industry. They gained insights into diverse career paths and opportunities. Company representatives also shared their personal experiences which offered the students a deeper understanding of the many directions their career could take. Butterfly students had the added benefit of exploring potential secondment options during the event.

SCHOLARSHIP FOR MIGUEL!

Butterfly student Miguel Martins was one of the first successful applicants to secure funding from the Jan van de Winkel scholarship fund since it's launch earlier this year. The picture shows Ida Hiemstra, Associate director, Translational research, Gemab, congratulating Miguel. Well done Miguel!

THANK YOU

A huge thank you to all our participants. A big shout-out to Sanofi, Genmab and Crown Bioscience for their much appreciated sponsorship.

Thank you also to our Butterfly Industrial representative, Marrit Putker, Senior Director R&D, Crown Bioscience for your participation.

Maxima Butterfly

@MàximaButterfly

